Oswego County Youth Works offers year-round services to eligible individuals who are age 16-24. For those who qualify, Youth Works can provide the following:

The purpose of Youth Works is to assist young adults in achieving academic and employment success. Youth Works can help young adults build positive, local references while discovering their skills and abilities. Participants gain valuable, hands-on, work experience or the credentials they need for their desired job. Scholarship opportunities are available qualified individuals. Each young adult participates in an assessment to examine skill levels and goals. An individual service plan is then developed to outline the steps needed to achieve those goals.

If you are 16-24 years old and would like to see how Youth Works can help you achieve your goals, call 315-591-9000 for more information.

Skill Up Oswego County 2!

Oswego County residents who want free access to online learning courses will have the opportunity again this year through "Skill Up Oswego County 2", an initiative sponsored by Oswego County Workforce New York (OCWNY), the Oswego County Workforce Development Board, the Oswego County Poverty Reduction Task Force and NY Wired for Education. From May 1 through July 31, 2018, any Oswego County resident can join the Metrix E-Learning System, which provides courses that teach skills employers are looking for-like the Microsoft programs, OSHA prep and customer service. This offer will only last for a limited time, so county residents looking to upgrade their current skills or learn new ones to improve their employment opportunities are encouraged to sign up today. You can register at Oswego.skillupamerica.org initiative is a great way for people to expand their knowledge and abilities in areas that appeal to employers in the current job market," said Legislator Roy Reehil, District 5, chairman of the Oswego County Anti-Poverty Task Force. "Whether they are unemployed or underemployed, people who use this learning system can earn certificates to verify their skill set to their present or potential employers."

"The "Skill Up Oswego County"

The initiative provides a free license both the SkillSoft and Provet programs for six months. These programs have a catalog of over 4,000 courses and assessments that includes IT and software lessons, as well as those for project management, human resources, banking, customer service, retail, hospitality, and communication skills.

"The Metrix online learning system can be used to help people learn new skills, earn certificates or prepare for certifications," said

Before you look for a job, "google" yourself

These days employers are searching the internet to get information about potential candidates before they hire. To an employer, it's just one more way of eliminating problems before they welcome workers into their world. As a matter of fact, according to a survey of 100 executive recruiters, 77% of recruiters reported using search engines in an attempt to find information on candidates. Of those who used search engines, 35% have eliminated a candidate because of information that was uncovered online.

Here are a few tips for improving your online image:

- * Be careful. When you're posting a comment and/or picture online, think before you act. Would you really want someone who has the power to hire you see what you've posted? Remember, anything someone finds out about you on the internet can be used to determine your character.
- * Search for information about yourself. Search for your name on various websites such as Google, Bing, and Yahoo. Then once a month, check those same sites to see if anything comes up about you.
- * Tell the truth if you are questioned about something online. You don't want to be pegged as dishonest.

Christine Weaver, Director of Employment and Training at the Oswego County Workforce New York American Job Center. "It is accessible around the clock to anyone with high speed internet access. People can work at their own pace through a variety of courses that teach both technical and soft skills."

Participants receive digital badges (certificates) as they complete each training session, and can link directly to www.indeed.com to search current local job openings.

"We are excited to work with Oswego County Workforce New York and their partners in this nationally innovative workforce solution. This will assist employers, job seekers, and potentially address issues of poverty," said Brian Lee, CEO of NY Wired for Education.

For more information about the "Skill Up Oswego County 2" initiative or the Metrix learning system, County residents can go directly to the site at Oswego.skillupamerica.org. Informational sessions are also being held at the Oswego County Workforce New York office. To sign up call (315) 591-9000 or e-mail msmith@oswegocounty.com. Oswego County residents can also stop in at the office at 200 N. Second Street, Fulton, Monday – Friday between 8:30am-4:30pm.

Summer Youth Employment Program

Our Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP) provides paid work and job readiness training to help selected young people (income eligible, 14-24 years of age) develop work interests, skills, and abilities. Participants earn money, build a resume, get professional references and reinforce positive work habits and attitudes. Eligible youth may be offered paid employment at minimum wage ($10.40/hour) for up to 30 hours per week from early July to the end of August.

Request for Proposal (RFP) forms are sent out to potential worksites to try to provide a variety of sites throughout the county. Placements are scarce, however, in some areas of the county. The worksites include local school districts, community based organizations and Oswego County Conservation Corps (OC3) crews. Job opportunities include clerical trainee, custodial trainee, recreational program helper, OC3 crew member and more.

SYEP is usually a six-week program with some flexibility based on the worksite's needs. This year's SYEP program is scheduled to run from July – August 2018, although there are some worksites which request workers to start earlier than the official start date.

Youth are encouraged to contact our office as soon as possible to schedule their work readiness and payroll orientation meeting. SYEP eligibility is determined per TANF 200% income guidelines (e.g. a family of 4 can earn up to $50,200 annually).

Youth may contact Oswego County Youth Works at 315-591-9000. The Oswego County Youth Works team looks forward to providing this valuable opportunity to young people throughout our community!
